(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.)

Illinois Farmers' Convention--An Extensive Platform.

SPRINGFIELD, June 10.—The Farmers' Convention met here this morning, took a recess and reassembled at 2 o'clock. A State Central Committee consisting of one from each Congressional district was appointed. A permanent organization was effected by the election of J. M. Allen as President, with a Vice President and Secretary. The Committee on Resolutions reported a long platform which was adopted unanimously. They declare it to be the duty of voters to attend all conventions and elections in order to select good men to positions alike with either political party now in this country; to insist upon retrenchment and economy in governmental affairs; to demand financial reform; [illegible] civil service abuses; to favor [illegible] of lakes and rivers; to oppose further [illegible] and grants or subsidies to corporations; to favor a repeal of the national banking law and the direct issue by the Government of a legal tender currency interchangeable for Government bonds bearing the lowest possible rate of interest; to demand a revision of the patent laws; to endorse the railway legislation of the state and demand its enforcement; to declare that the right of the Legislature to control railroads must be vindicated and established, and maintain and assert that they will agree to no compromise in the matter; condemn the receipt of railroad passes by public officers; oppose the protective tariff, declare for a tariff for revenue; condemn the contract system in the construction of public works as a fruitful source of corruption and fraud at the expense of laboring and mechanical classes, and demand its reform. The [illegible] adopted the name INDEPENDENT RE[FORM], and it appeals to all classes to support the platform and nominations, and to the laboring classes to make Congressional nominations in accordance with the platform.

Nominations.

David Gore, of Macoupin county, was nominated for State Treasurer, and S. Etter of McLean county Superintendent of Public Instruction.

A resolution opposing any further issues of paper money and favoring a return to specie payment, was defeated by a very large vote.

Indiana Farmers' State Convention.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 10.—The convention of farmers adopted resolutions prefaced by a long preamble enumerating the grievances complained of and the remedies therefor, resolving that henceforth the Convention will support the most capable candidates regardless of party platform; oppose any second term of office; condemns the practice of Legislators receiving free railroad passes, and denounces the salary grab. It advocates the reduction of taxes and general expenses.

Nominations.

For Secretary of State N. S. White; for Auditor [illegible] Henderson; for Treasurer Morris C. Ren[illegible]; for Attorney-General James Mitchell; for Judge of the Supreme Court Horace P. Biddle; for Superintendent of Public Instruction, Clarkson Davis.

The Ohio Militia to be Called Out.

[illegible], June 11.—Owing to demonstrations by miners in Nelsonville Governor Allen has ordered a supply of ammunition to be sent there for the use of the militia who were to be sent, if necessary, to prevent bloodshed.

NEW YORK, June 11.—A gang of striking laborers last evening assaulted the men who took the places they had left and during the row a policeman was badly injured.

Jealousy--Murder--Suicide.

ST. LOUIS, June 11.—Leopold Hoelderne yesterday, [illegible] by jealousy, shot in the breast and dangerously wounded a woman with whom he had been living. He entered the cars at Jefferson City and then shot himself twice. He died in two hours.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Congressional Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The following amendments to the River and Harbor Appropriation Bill have been offered by Mitchell and referred to the Senate Committee on Commerce: Increasing the appropriation for the improvement of Upper Columbia river from $20,000 as passed by the House to $[illegible], and items for the Lower Columbia from $[illegible] to $50,000 and for the Willamette river from $[illegible] to $50,000; also proposing to insert appropriations of $100,000 for a canal to connect Coquille river with Coos Bay and $10,000 for the improvement of [illegible] river.

Convalescence of Hon. Charles Clayton.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Representative Clayton has recovered from his late serious illness sufficiently to travel. He left for Long Branch to-day to escape the hot weather during his convalescence.

CANADA.

QUEBEC, June 11.—The Captain of the ship Van[illegible], which arrived from Liverpool, reports that on [illegible] of May 13th one of the crew fatally [illegible] another and then jumped overboard and was lost.

French Politics.

PARIS, June 10.—The Assembly to-day, by a vote of 343 to 337, adopted an amendment to the municipal [illegible] bill fixing the age of electors at 21 instead of 25 years as proposed by the Government. [illegible] thus defeated on a vital provision of the bill.

A guard was placed on the train which the Deputies from Versailles to Paris this [illegible] in order to protect Bonapartists against [illegible] supporters. On the arrival of the Paris train here last evening several Bonapartists accosted Gambetta and defied him to repeat [illegible] words used in the Assembly.

Startling if True.

LONDON, June 10.—A Paris correspondent of the Daily News reports that while Gambetta was waiting for the Versailles train he was hustled and insulted by a band of well known Bonapartists led by Baron M. Pietres, former Secretary, and Cassanova, an officer in the Imperial Guard. The latter attempted to strike Gambetta.

A COMMON DOOMED.—We write it in ink with tears in our eyes, with indignation [illegible] upon our brow and our blood [illegible], that our Common—our beautiful [illegible] Common—where for years the stupid [illegible] has been wont to air the little [illegible] her mistress—where the peanut [illegible] has been accustomed to deal out the [illegible] fruit, and where the boys have delighted to kick foot ball and make faces at the police—is about to be cut up into streets and building lots. The ruthless appetite of the real estate dealer and municipal government, not having the fear of the historic past and the love of old landmarks before its eyes, have already commenced operations. The removal of the iron fence on the Tremont side last year was only a first step toward an absolute encroachment upon that popular pleasure ground, and it is believed that the destruction of the out row of noble trees on the Mall is a part of the same vandalous scheme. The City Council has no right to disturb the Common, but the City Council care nothing for law nor popular opinion.—Boston Corr. S. F. Call.

GEORGE WILLIAM CURTIS.—It may seem strange that any New Yorker should be compelled to admit, as I must do, that I had not seen George W. Curtis for nearly twenty years. The time I last saw this much admired gentleman was during the Fremont campaign of 1856, when he stumped the city in behalf of "Free speech, free press, free soil, free men, Fremont, and liberty." He was then lithe and handsome, his voice was shrill and sweet, the flush of the morning was on his face and the hope of the future was embodied in his words. But now his face, though yet gentle, is not that of my memories; his voice, though yet soft, is not that which first sounded like the oaten reed of ancient Greece. His figure shows that the weight of fifty years may be ten times heavier than that of thirty, and his language makes us see that the light of the afternoon may be less roseate than that of the dawn.—N. Y. Corr. Cincinnati Commercial.

NOT FOR CHICAGO.—It now appears that the Russian Grand Duke Constantine's son Nicholas, gave the diamonds which he stole from his mother to a beautiful American, a Miss Fenny or Phœnix. As it is customary in cases of this kind to lay the fault at the door of Chicago we wish to enter in the [illegible] owning this fascinating stage bird. Notwithstanding the immense number of [illegible] produced by the great fire, this particular Phœnix is none of ours.—Chic. [illegible]

The British Medical Journal understands that "the result of imprisonment has been thus far to lessen the enormous bulk of Arthur Orton, the Tichborne claimant. He is on the ordinary prison diet and has not suffered in health. He is employed in tailoring. He has reduced in weight from 22 stone to less than 18.

Mr. Joseph Arch, the President of the National Agricultural Laborers' Union of England, has been ill. He suffers from the spitting of blood, but has however, so far recovered as to be able to address public meetings.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—The steamer [illegible] arrived from Panama this morning.

An old man named Frederick Shurtleff fell under one of the Sutter street cars to-day on Battery. The wheels of the car passed over his legs, mangling them in a fearful manner. He was taken to the County Hospital but the physicians say he cannot possibly survive his injuries.

No jury has yet been obtained in the case of J. J. [illegible] & Son on trial for embezzlement from the funds of the State Harbor Commission.

At Panama May 18th Rear Admiral Almy transferred his flag from the U. S. steamer [illegible] to the steamer which was to sail on [illegible] for San Francisco with the Admiral, who is to take command of the North Pacific squadron [illegible]. On the same day the Omaha was to sail for the coast of South America. The Omaha arrived at Panama on the 14th of May and was saluted by the British steamer Repulse and the [illegible] lying at anchor in the bay.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—At seven minutes past 8 o'clock this evening two sharp shocks of an earthquake were felt here with movement from south to north, but was too slight to result in any damage.

A canvass of the city shows that there are 1,488 liquor saloons here, not counting corner groceries, with annual receipts of over $6,700,000. Local Optionists intend to obtain a statement of the number of all places in the city where liquors are sold.

The praying band of female crusaders was at work again to-day on the city front. They have not yet invaded the saloons on Montgomery and Kearny streets, but say they will do so in a few days.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—Harvey F. Jones tried to commit suicide this afternoon by taking a large dose of poison. He was taken to the city prison where Dr. Stivers made use of the proper remedies to save his life. The man arrived here from Pittsburg a few weeks since.

The funeral of Judge James H. Hardy will take place Sunday from the Masonic Temple and under the auspices of that Order.

The San Francisco Mint will be closed for the annual clean up on the 16th inst., and be re-opened July 2d.

Consolidated Virginia paid $324,000 dividends to-day.

The first wheat of the season arrived here to-day from Hill's Ferry—94 sacks.

Interior California.

DIXON, June 11.—The railroad office was broken open at this place last night, the safe taken out and trucked away thirty or forty yards. A hole had been chopped in the back and the contents, consisting of $14.97, taken out. No clue to the robbers.

SALINAS CITY, June 11.—The temperance question has become the absorbing topic in this city and the advocates of no license have started out on the war path with full assurance of success if the election is called in the township, but if confined to the city alone the license party will win by a large majority.

The excitement in regard to Vasquez has nearly died out. A few days since Judge Belden, of the Twentieth District Court, advised County Judge Parker to order Vasquez to be removed to San Jose to be confined in the jail at that place, because it had been represented to him that the jail in this place is insecure either against an attack from outside or the inside, but Sheriff Smith considers that he is equal to any emergency and can hold and produce Vasquez at any time he is wanted by the authorities either to try or execute him. At present Vasquez is very weak from the effects of his wounds and from the unusual restraint in which he is placed, but when he recovers the use of his limbs the Sheriff will iron him so securely that there will be no chance whatever of his escaping. It is evident that his counsel will endeavor to stave off his trial to an indefinite period, hoping thereby to gain a point among the witnesses subpœnaed for the defense. Vasquez' witnesses are Chavis, his former lieutenant, and Gonzalez, one of his band, both of whom participated in the Tres Pinos murder. As there is a reward of $2,000 offered for Chavis, no doubt the Sheriff will be delighted to serve that subpœna. To-day P. B. Tully, of Gilroy, Vasquez' counsel, arrived and was for a long time in close communion with his client, who, he asserts, he can clear as he did Muero. In fact it is supposed that it will be the main endeavor of Vasquez' lawyers to save his life and get him imprisoned for life and run the chances of escaping from the State prison.

STOCKTON, June 11.—The Board of Directors of the State Insane Asylum have re-elected Dr. Shurtleff Superintendent for four years.

The ladies of Stockton favoring the local option law are actively engaged canvassing the city for signatures to a petition asking the Board of Supervisors to call a special election.

Preparations for a grand Fourth of July celebration are being made.

UTAH.

SALT LAKE, June 11.—The police arrested a soldier last night from Camp Douglas for disorderly conduct. This morning Gen. Morrow demanded the surrender of the soldier to be tried by the military authorities. The surrender of the soldier was refused, and Gen. Morrow ordered Captain Gordon with a detachment of cavalry to go to the city with orders to ask for the surrender of the soldier, and in case of refusal to release him by force. The surrender was refused and the Captain proceeded to break open the jail and release the man, who is now in confinement in the military post. Gen. Morrow some time since presented the subject of arrests by the civil authorities of soldiers to the War Department, claiming that under the articles of war soldiers are to be tried by the military and not the civil authorities. The Judge Advocate General of the army approved this view and the Secretary of War directed Gen. Morrow to act accordingly. No resistance was made by the city authorities.

SALT LAKE, June 11.—In the case of the soldier arrested for assault on a citizen last evening it is claimed both the citizen and soldier were intoxicated at the time and that the arrest was made by a private citizen. Instructions from Washington in regard to the arrest and detention of soldiers by the Mormon authorities were printed in the papers here to-day, and it is supposed that a test case is intended to be made of the occurrence to-day, and that the surrender of the soldier was refused for that reason. The soldiers were loudly cheered by the assemblage of citizens who witnessed their release.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

VICTORIA, June 11.—The Hudson Bay Co. shipped between $80,000 and $100,000 worth of furs by the Prince Alfred yesterday en route for England. She also carried [illegible] 100 sacks of charcoal for San Francisco, the first shipment of the kind from this port.

The following are the treasure shipment: Bank of British North America, $[illegible]; Bank of British Columbia, $[illegible]; Garesche, $9,459. Total $25,[illegible].

A NOBLE BEQUEST.—J. Edgar Thomson, the well known railroad man, who recently deceased, left the bulk of his large fortune to support the orphans of employees who had been killed on railroads, [illegible] [illegible] the testator [illegible] [illegible] utilities.

GRANT BEFORE SHERMAN.—The Wilkesbarre Herald says that it would prefer to take Grant for a third term, rather than General Sherman, and that in this preference it would select Gen. Benjamin G. Humphreys, a citizen soldier of our gallant State, and whose [illegible] crest went streaming through Virginia like the white plume of Harry of Navarre, leading always in the path of glory and of danger.

A GOOD MANY THINGS WORTH CONSIDERING.

SALEM, June 10, 1874.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

You are certainly not answerable for the opinions of your correspondents, or party tyranny is not yet half broken. The Bulletin, from its constitutional tendencies, must think there can be no party without a lash and a throttle. [illegible] and here don't think of questioning a right to rejoice over half a loaf instead of no bread. The Democratic party is [illegible] [illegible] desirable.

TO BE [illegible]

I believe that the whigs [illegible] into [illegible] and that was his speciality. [illegible] The Republican party for the last number of years has [illegible] in the woods, then the railroad grips the [illegible] the Bulletin [illegible] the Custom House, courts and the [illegible] leprosy all the time. Not being much of a doctor I thought it was incurable and would have to die, and give up its mortal ghost, and supposing the election to have killed it I was willing to join the Democrats in burning powder over its grave just to fumigate the air. [illegible] you know although I would have no objection to see the powder used to cremate the corpus—if the Bulletin prefers it.

LET IT [illegible] THE ELECTION

Only gave the Republican party the fits, and some of the Bulletin's late numbers indicate that it can be cured and will come around into the service of the people. I hope it will. And if Divine Providence wills not the death of a sinner but rather that he should repent and turn from his evil ways and live, I hope the Independent party will be as compassionate and considerate.

TO HOLD YOU, BROTHER HILL,

Responsible for my talk would be as unreasonable as to hold Mr. Grover, Mr. Helm and Mr. Strahan, who spoke here at the jubilee Monday evening, responsible for Mr. Hayden's tirade against the Independents. The first named gentlemen treated us with dignity and respect and as honest workers after needed reforms and better legislation. But Mr. Hayden denounced us as "hoodlums, soreheads and spa[illegible]," and threatened to turn Mr. Campbell over to Barnum for his museum. But no one regarded Mr. Hayden as speaking for the party, but rather from his own peculiarities. It being well known that Ben had been knocked in the head for Congress, had been kicked for Governor, and beaten for most of the county offices in Polk, it was natural, considering Ben's condition, that he should think everybody's head was sore and should talk of that which was running most in his own head—the Campbells having taken Polk county.

BUT BEN HAS ONE VIRTUE.

He sticks to his party. Like the warts on a toad's back he never leaves, his party leaders know that, and use him, and don't give him any office either, and if constancy be a virtue that will pay in a museum, Ben is the greatest show in Oregon. He may not know it, and as I am not his doctor just now I would prefer not to enlighten him, but it is generally believed that the Democratic party yet contains the most unquestioned hoodlum and the greatest spa[illegible] in the State. This Sangrado will not [illegible] him, if the public don't know him.

SO SHOULDERING MY OWN SINS,

Follies and opinions on my own hump, I leave others to take care of themselves, and from my very independent standpoint I wish all parties having power to unite for the public good, too long sacrificed to party uses. I hope all parties in the Legislature will co-operate to remedy all the evils we complain of in taxation and in the insecurity to the liberties and rights of the people from railroad monopoly, money and selfish greed, and I remain as ever Yours, &c.,

C. W. LAWSON.

WASHINGTON COUNTY LETTER

MATTERS OF INTEREST TO FARMERS—GOOD STOCK FROM YAKIMA—FINE BLOODED HORSES TO BE BROUGHT FROM THE EAST—FINE WOOL AND PLENTY OF IT—WASHINGTON COUNTY STABLE [illegible] THE STATE.

HILLSBORO, June 10, 1874.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Mr. James Imbrie has just brought down thirty head of fine beef cattle from the Yakima for the use of our county. They are as fine cattle as one would wish to see, and are certainly an improvement on the home raised beef. Mr. Imbrie also brought down with him ten head of young geldings, which he matched from a large drove of his in the Yakima country. He proposes breaking them to harness, and then will offer them for sale. Such beauties as they are—of good blood and as trim built as the most fastidious could desire, and of the most fashionable colors.

A private letter written by Mr. S. G. Reed, who attended in person the sale of L. S. Wadsworth at Waukegan, Ills.—of which mention was made in the OREGONIAN—says Mr. Reed has purchased three mares with foals by Spaulding's Abdallah and Menelaus—one two year old stallion, two one year old stallions and three one year old fillies—just [illegible] twelve in all. Mr. Reed says: "The breeding of the above are of the highest type, combining the most fashionable trotting strains of Hambletonian, Mambrino Chief, Abdallah and Pilot running into thoroughbreds."

Mr. Reed asks Mr. A[illegible] if he should buy some pure Bates Shorthorns. Mr. A. writes back, "by all means."

So Mr. Reed is expected to bring with him a large number of blooded stock which will add materially to the wealth and reputation of our country and State.

Mr. Watson, of Reedville, has shown in Hillsboro some of the samples of wool selected by him to send to Austria. Having been raised in an agricultural and stock country, and being used to these things all my life, I was nevertheless perfectly astonished at the superior quality and fine texture of the different varieties shown, and I do not believe the samples can be beaten in any other country in the world. Mr. Watson says he selected respectively from two of his sheep 13 and 16 [illegible] which just [illegible] ahead of anything yet heard of in this State of Oregon, and [illegible] challenge any other country to try out their fleeces.

Mr. James Imbrie [illegible] 60 head of half blood [illegible] ewes which had raised lambs this year, 650 pounds of wool, or an average of 10 pounds to the head. Mr. Imbrie now has [illegible] head of the half blood bucks for sale.

Mr. Reed will not return until August, purposing to visit all the principal breeders in the Eastern States. We [illegible] the guess that when he arrives home he will have [illegible] prettier [illegible] stock [illegible] in Reedville.

Our farmers and stablemen are [illegible] of the old breed of half blood horses, and are finding it profitable to have the pure blood or even [illegible] and we have as fine [illegible] of stallions for all work [illegible] in the State. I might mention Mr. Morrow's [illegible] Imbrie's Griffin, [illegible] and others of first class quality for [illegible], while Mr. Steve Scoggin, aside from his blooded horse, has introduced within the last two years the extensive use of mules. Blooded animals were well [illegible] so far as the Willamette Valley was concerned, having all been taken east of the mountains during the mining excitement for packing. Mr. Scoggin some two years since went east of the mountains in company with Porter and drove down a large band for the use of farmers, and sold them all but two at a remunerative figure.

THE SALEM HOME FOR INVALIDS.

SALEM, June 9, 1874.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

A few of the prominent ladies of Salem visited the Home for Invalids in that city yesterday, and were courteously received by Dr. Carpenter and his excellent lady. Dr. C. is one of the proprietors of the institution and the resident physician. The institution is pleasantly located within a short distance of the railroad depot, is neatly furnished and comfortably arranged. Water from the Santiam river is furnished by the mill race which runs hard by. The building has all desirable conveniences for the comfort and benefit of the invalids.

After spending an hour and a half in looking at and the building and the grounds we were invited to a [illegible] to which full justice was done. The kind Matron is a genial, pleasant and efficient nurse and well adapted to her situation. We can most cordially recommend the institution to the confidence of the public.

THE NEW LINE OF DEMARCATION.

The San Francisco Bulletin, after some pertinent and pointed remarks upon the coalition between the Democratic and Republican ring politicians of this State to defeat the people, has the following, which is good for any climate:

Party lines as between the Republicans and Democrats have been almost obliterated, but it does not by any means follow that there are at this time no political divisions in this country. On the contrary, we cannot recall a period when they were more marked. We have on the one side all the old hacks. It does not make the slightest difference by what name you call them. There is a most wonderful and taking likeness between the office seeking Republican and the place hunting Democrat. Fundamentally they are one and the same, only plausible but at the same time insincere, dishonest, and corrupt. They belong to the great and ever increasing brotherhood of the drones of society. There never was as a matter of fact a bloody chasm separating them. In the presence of the imperilled offices they always have been ready to coalesce. On the other side are visible the betrayed and injured people. They had been changing from one to the other of the old parties in the vain hope that the more hungry the organization the more severely virtuous it might be. But the reformed Democrat proved to be as great a fraud as the reforming Republican. In this failure of agency debts were being contracted at an enormous rate. Great corporations were overshadowing and dwarfing every industry. For the people there appeared to be no hope unless they should determine at once to take the management of their own affairs in their own hands. With only a few weeks of preparation the people were enabled practically to carry the State of California. Were it not for the impediments which the Constitution throws in the way of sudden uprisings they would have swept the State from end to end.

In Oregon they have not yet felt the iron to enter so deeply into their souls. They have not so much to complain of in the way of monopoly oppression as we have. But still, though the old parties were united against them, they have managed to obtain a very strong footing in the Government. If they have in fact carried the Legislature they have all the power, though their antagonists may have most of the paying offices. With the Legislature in their hands many of the abuses of which they now complain can be eradicated. If they act with wisdom and discretion they can also lay broad and deep the foundations for a triumph in the next election, the like of which have never before been witnessed in the thriving State to the north of us.

POLITICAL ETHICS.

The Boston Journal of Commerce publishes in Latin the following curt statement of the principles that prevail in the politics of Pennsylvania:

Bono [illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]

This is pretty good Latin, but the suggestiveness [illegible] equal to Kemble's celebrated exposition of the law of pickpocketing and highway robbery. Our readers may be interested in contrasting the two:

[illegible] DEPARTMENT [illegible]
[illegible] HARRISBURG,
March [illegible], 1867.

MY DEAR TITIAN: Allow me to introduce to you my particular friend Mr. George O. Evans. He is the [illegible] of [illegible] [illegible] through as you would me. He understands [illegible] in [illegible] silence. Yours,

W. H. KEMBLE.

A[illegible] [illegible] IN THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT.—The House Committee on Banking and Currency have been for some time secretly investigating the source from which the large amount of fractional currency which was first issued [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] has been put in circulation. The committee were apprised very early in the [illegible] that the Treasury officials that a large amount of the currency of the first issue, [illegible] and quite fresh, and was being constantly presented for redemption. The Secret Service Department of the Government has been at work on the case for a long time in connection with the committee, and it was finally established that the entire amount had been put in circulation by a very eccentric and wealthy old gentleman, who, when the first issue of the fractional currency was made, deposited a large quantity of it in his safe and never had paid it out until very recently. The Secretary at first thought of issuing a circular warning the public against taking it. It was afterward thought the original plate had been stolen.—Buck Co. [illegible]

THE TERRITORIES

Reports regarding the crops in Idaho are very flattering.

The "Early Rose" potato has made an appearance at Seattle.

Rev. W. [illegible] and family of [illegible] have removed to Skokomish, W. T.

About seventy five men are now at work on the Seattle and Walla Walla Railroad.

Colorado has less than two thousand Indians, and they have all gone out of the scalping business, Eastern papers to the contrary notwithstanding.

Mr. J. R. Wright has discovered a deposit of clay near Middleton, Idaho, and wants somebody to start a pottery in consequence. Information gratis.

A Colorado paper says: "Many of the fire proof safes at Central proved that they would have been pretty good had they been labeled stoves. Their contents were not only well baked, but burnt."

It is reported that one hundred Indians from Standing Rock will join the band of four hundred which left the Cheyenne Agency on the 2d. They intend to make it warm for the Black Hills expedition.

The Commissioners of King county have purchased from John W. Pennell, lots 7 and 8, block 19, in Seattle, for the sum of $2,000 gold coin, for the purpose of having erected thereon a Court House and jail.

A recent heavy frost almost entirely destroyed the early potatoes, beans, tomatoes, etc., in places on the Sound. It was the most disastrous visitation of the kind that has ever been experienced in that region.

On Tuesday, June 2d, Julius Horton, Esq., organized a Falls City, King county, W. T., a Grange of twenty members to be known as Snoqualmie Grange, with A. C. Kimball, Master, and Cyrus Durst, Secretary.

The brig Deacon and bark Tidal Wave are loaded and just ready to sail from Port Madison for San Francisco. The barks Ranier and W. H. Gawley are also loaded for San Francisco, and the bark Legal Tender, for the Sandwich Islands.

A Pueblo whisky firm, Hewson & Tuter, dispatched a balloon to which was fastened a card inviting the finder to a free drink at their establishment. The balloon drifted away to the Huerfano and the invitation was read by a tool tender who writes to the firm that he had started and thought he could walk through in two days.

At the annual meeting of the Seattle Library Association held in their rooms on the 2d of June at 7 o'clock P. M. the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Hon. O. Jacobs, President; Hon. A. A. Denny, Vice President; R. H. Denny, Treasurer; W. H. Pumphrey, Secretary; O. Jacobs, A. A. Denny, W. H. Pumphrey, H. L. Yesler, Mrs. W. H. Gilliam, D. P. Jenkins, D. Horton and S. F. Coombs, Board of Trustees.

The Mormon "Order of Enoch," being introduced at Salt Lake, is an organization purporting to have all temporal things in common—a system of Communism pure and simple—but which will of course give the head of the Mormon Church, Brigham Young, absolute power over the property and labor of his deluded followers. Many of the Mormons object to the Order, and the agitation which it is exciting may be the end of the other twin relic.

The Courier says: "A rumor has gained willing belief in Seattle that the P. M. S. S. Co. intend to locate soon, a coaling station near the city. In fact it is understood that a purchase for a sight has already been made. Should this prove true it will be good news for the Sound, as that company would undoubtedly put on steamers to carry the coal necessary to supply the ships forming their lines to Panama and China and the other vessels they own on this coast."

A passenger named Beal, hailing from Francisco, and supposed from papers upon his person to be a liquor dealer, was suddenly smitten with insanity on a Union Pacific train, and had to be taken in custody by an officer. So long as he did nothing but sing, pray and fling greenbacks from the car windows his fellow travelers felt like tolerating him, but when he wanted to marry a negro woman with three babies who occupied the same car, they thought he was a dangerous lunatic, and accordingly had him removed.

The Salt Lake Tribune of the 4th inst. says: "The Central Pacific train which arrived at Ogden yesterday morning, had on board the body of a lady passenger ticketed from San Francisco to Omaha, who died in one of the sleeping cars, a few miles this side of Battle Mountain. The deceased was Mrs. John C. [illegible]land, formerly of Co[illegible]burg, Harrison county, Iowa, aged about 30 years. She and her husband and two children went to California less than a year ago, and both died. Next the husband and father died, and finally the poor widow, stricken with consumption in the endeavor to reach her girlhood home, sank in the grasp of death. The train conductor, Mr. W. H. Welch, took charge of the remains, and immediately telegraphed for suitable provision to convey the corpse to Omaha."

The residence of Mr. W. Hudson, situated about a mile and a quarter from Port Gamble, was visited on the evening of June 1st about ten o'clock by a large panther, which picked up one of the children playing at the door (a little girl, some three years old) and was in the act of carrying it off when the cries of the child attracted the attention of its brother, a boy about ten years of age, who at once gave the alarm, and together with his mother succeeded in making such a noise that the beast dropped the child and betook himself to a tree near by. The child was picked up much lacerated from the teeth and claws of the animal, but hopes are entertained of its recovery. A number of persons immediately went for Mr. Panther, and several shots were fired, but the weapons were too small to do him much damage, and he at length jumped from the tree and escaped. Watch was kept for him to return, and on the morning of the 2d inst. (or as some think his mate) made his appearance at the same place, when he was shot by Mr. Jameson with a Henry rifle.

LATEST FROM CASSIAR.

The Colonist of the 9th inst. has the following:

The steamer Idd arrived here on Sunday, bringing the following report from the Stikine mines:

She left Fort Wrangell on the 1st inst. At Wrangell the steamers were doing a quiet business. Provisions were cheap at Buck's Bar.

The general opinion was that the mines were rich, but no new discoveries had been made.

The health of the miners was good, but at Wrangell [illegible] of sickness were prevalent, owing probably to the water, which is known to be bad.

One pack train had started from Buck's Bar, and had got across the first bridge. We understand this belongs to McLeod. Millard's train left Porthill for Dease Creek on the 26th of May with a full cargo.

In the mines provisions were getting scarce [illegible] at 50 per pound.

It is stated that [illegible] the stock consists of [illegible]. This of course may be taken cum grano salis.

There were about 400 men actually at the mines, about 300 on the road and about 60 at Fort Wrangell.

The [illegible] and [illegible] had arrived at Fort Wrangell. The Gleaner was tied up.

The oxen that went up on the Cariboo two trips ago were each packed with 100 lbs. at 50 cents per pound freight, and taken to the diggings, where the oxen will fall beneath the butcher's knife.

Mr. [illegible] has established his store at Pondville, head of navigation on the Stick, and has every prospect, from being well and formerly known to the miners, of doing a good trade.

A correspondent writing to that paper under date of June 1st says: "I [illegible] hope [illegible] some reliable news which [illegible] received from Mr. Hodgson [illegible] of the farmers [illegible] who has just returned [illegible] Dease Lake on his way to Wrangell for supplies [illegible] storage on his way up in February.

He left Dease Lake on the 16th inst. and his left a man to protect his interest until he returned. He and his partner took out two ounces of coarse gold by thawing the ground. He says there are about 300 companies at work, and none of them making less than expenses, and up as high as $20 [illegible]. He has every confidence in the diggings as far as he has prospected, which is on Dease Creek. His claim is situated above the falls and narrows, which were not known here to this season. He [illegible] old miner, and during all his experience never saw a smoother sample of gold. There has also been some prospecting on other creeks, but nothing of any account struck yet. The Gold Commissioner is in the diggings yet. On Mr. Vetch's arrival he will have business enough to occupy his attention for a few weeks. The creek is all staked off. I think I shall say from [illegible] the people on the creek [illegible] some [illegible] who never expected. The ground for miles prospects from 2 cents to 10 cents to the pan.

No provisions as yet on the creek, excepting a little brought in by the miners themselves. A few Indians were out on the way with packs, but not a great many, as they have been all treated by some of the Wrangell sharpers, who hired their canoes to convey goods to Buck's Bar, and their packs into Dease Lake at certain prices."

The Astorian editor says very unkind and we might say untrue things about Portland this week, but still this city seems to flourish. We are glad for Portland's sake, but sorry the editor of the Astorian allows our prosperity to hurt him so.

Parties arrived at Salem Wednesday from Eastern Oregon, having crossed the Cascade mountains by the Barlow route. They found continuous snow over twelve miles of the higher portion of the pass, lying from one to three feet deep, and inclined to be soft.

The Salem Record says: Divine, Democratic candidate for Assembly from Tillamook, who is at work on the State House at the present time, informs us that he has received returns from all but two precincts in that county, and that Tolman has 33 majority. He himself has 44 majority. The two precincts to hear from are South Prairie and Nehalem. South Prairie is strongly Democratic.

The Record mentions a sale of 30,000 pounds of wool at 33 cents per pound by the Agent of the Grangers in Marion county. The wool is part merino, part long combing wool and some ordinary. There was a brisk competition, several buyers from abroad being also bidders, and the purchase was made for the account of Salem Woolen Mills by John F. Miller, then acting as agent. We cannot say that this was not somewhat above an average lot as to quality. The price was certainly above average.

The Record says: Jefferson Grange lately made sale of the wool clip of its members for the present year for the rather nice sum of 33½ cents per pound. The wool market seems to be looking up. The lot will probably reach 12,000 pounds. It strikes us that our Granger friends are displaying rather a full share of business tact in disposing of their products. T. L. Davidson, Grange agent for this county, evidently manages these things pretty well. The Jefferson bargain was made by John M. Harrison.

From an article in the Coos Record, a monthly magazine published in San Francisco, entitled "Coal on the Pacific Coast," we make the following extract concerning coal in our State: "In Oregon, we have the Coos Bay mine, which are next in importance to the Diablo mines, but of vastly superior quality. The annual yield of these mines is now about 50,000 tons, nearly all of which comes to San Francisco, where it sells for $14 or $15 per ton. This yield could be increased with ease to three or four times that amount. This is considered to be one of the richest coal fields on this coast, and if capital sufficient were invested in it to thoroughly develop it there would be but little [illegible] imported into [illegible] that country."

FRIDAY MORNING JUNE 12 1874

LET THE TAXES BE EQUAL.

One of the first subjects that should engage the attention of the Legislature when it shall convene is the manner of assessing property for taxation. At the last session an act was passed creating a Board of Equalization but through some defect in the law or some error in the proceedings under it the whole matter fell through. Much complaint was made throughout the State against the present State administration on account of the wrongs real or supposed committed under the law. A large proportion of this may have been mere campaign noise but some part of it was doubtless just. The objectors however did not in general discuss the subject with a view of showing in what respect there should be a reformation of the system of assessments. It sufficed for all the purposes of the election to show that the new law had operated badly without going further and considering whether or not the old one worked well. The election being over, it will be in place now to inquire whether it is desirable to return to the old law.

By the law, as it existed prior to the abortive attempt at reformation made by the last Legislature, the Assessors of the different counties were directed to assess property at its "cash value," but there was no means provided whereby the valuations made by the different Assessors were to be equalized and every county required to pay its equitable share of the expenses of carrying on the State government. Whether the "cash value" contemplated by the statute was the sum that could be realized for the given piece of property at private sale for cash according to the ordinary course of business and in the ordinary state of the market, or such sum as it might be expected to bring at forced sale under the hammer of the auctioneer or upon execution, was a question left entirely in the hands of the assessor, and the assessments show that there are about as many different standards of "cash value" as there are counties to be assessed. In one county real property has been assessed at about about 33 per cent of its actual market value, in another at 40, in another at 60, and so on, every assessor having his own way of appraising, and there being no uniformity in anything except in the one fact that all the assessors set down valuations at a lower figure than any competent judge would be likely to name as the actual value of the property. For the purposes of local taxation, it is of little moment whether property is assessed at its actual value or below it, or even above it, provided the rate is uniform throughout the district to be taxed, for if there is required a specific sum of money to carry on the local affairs, the rate will be lower in proportion as the valuation of property is higher, and vice versa. But the levy for State purposes is a uniform rate, fixed by law and applicable alike to every county. Unless therefore, there is a general uniformity of valuation in all the counties, there will manifestly be injustice. The county that pays its State tax of five mills upon an assessment of its property at 66 per cent of its market value, while another county pays the same rate on an assessment of its property at only 33 per cent, contributes far more than its share toward paying the expenses of the State. And assessors are constantly placed under the strongest temptation to strain a point in order to put down values as low as possible. No officer, and especially no elective officer, can be entirely indifferent to the opinions of the people whose servant he is, or wholly deaf to the complaints of those to whom he owes his position. And certain it is, that the law that permits the adoption of any fanciful standard of valuation, offers a great inducement for the tax-payers of each county to insist upon having their property estimated at its lowest possible value, in order that they may escape as far as possible the burdens of the State tax. Many and ingenious have been the excuses devised by and for county assessors, for their capricious modes of valuation, when it was plain the true reason was to be found in the wish of tax payers to have their property assessed at its lowest value on account of the State tax. Thus there has grown up a positive rivalry among assessors in the making of low assessments, and the law has been evaded or violated everywhere, and in hardly any two places alike.

Wherein is to be found the remedy for this state of things? It can never be remedied merely by enacting a standard of valuations for the government of county assessors. The same inducements which have invited them away from all true cash values under the old law, will influence them under any law that stops short of State supervision of county assessments in some form. This has been proven in other States and it will be proven in Oregon, if our Legislature attempt any such method of equalizing the taxes. The offer of a premium for the best device for violating the statute and easing the conscience of the assessors at the same time, must be withdrawn—for just such an offer does the old statute hold out. Whether property is to be assessed at one third of its actual value or at one third more than its value is of little consequence so long as it is assessed uniformly so that every dollar may bear its uniform proportion of the general burden but justice to all the taxpayers demands that provision should be made effectually to secure this uniformity of rate and equality of burden.

ANOTHER NECESSARY PUBLIC WORK.

Pertinent to the subject of opening and improving our river is the following, from a private letter which we received yesterday from a gentleman residing in the Walla Walla Valley. The writer says:

> Now that your political excitement is over, we hope to see influential Oregonians give somewhat of their attention to the important matter of opening the Columbia river to all parties who may desire to navigate it. There is no reason in allowing the finest river on the Pacific coast to be practically closed against the commerce of the world. No one [illegible] who knows anything at all in the premises, that the opening of this great river to competing lines of boats would double and treble the products of this region in two years time. The [illegible] placed in the way of this competition are very great I know and it will cost more to remove them than we can expect to have appropriated immediately but the agitation of the subject should not cease till the Government is induced to begin the work. When once begun it will not be likely to stop till the improvement be completed.

This is sound sense on a very important subject. The fact that the enterprise of opening up the Columbia river to competing boats would cost a large amount of money is no reason why it should not be undertaken if the advantages to be gained by it are proportionately great. It is all but impossible to place too high an estimate upon the beneficent results that would flow from this great work. The fine valleys of the Umatilla, Walla Walla, Touchet and the magnificent agricultural region north of Lewiston and on the Palouse river, a region as extensive as the entire valley of the Willamette would at once be relieved from the pressure of high freights and consequently low markets and the country east of the Cascade range would in a short time rival that west of the mountains in population and civilization. It is certain this great work will not be undertaken at once, but it is equally certain that it will never be undertaken until it has been agitated and urged by every influence that can properly be brought to bear for that purpose. No other reason need be assigned for agitating the question than that the improvement is much needed, and that it will never be made unless it is patiently and persistently urged.

A FEW WORDS OF CONDOLENCE.

If we had had any adequate conception of the depth of grief into which the Portland ring would be plunged by their defeat at the election we are not sure but that we should have been inclined to cast the weight of our feeble influence in the scale in their favor, for certainly no one with the heart of a human being could help a feeling of sad and sympathetic pity, who witnesses their incurable anguish. Day after day passes, until a time has elapsed as long as that required for defeated parties ordinarily to forget their wounds, dry up their tears, swallow their disappointment and go about their business in a reasonably cheerful frame of mind. But still the ring faces are as long as on the evening of that disastrous gathering of the people around the polls. The managers of the ring, who have for years ruled this city and county with a power only less absolute and despotic than that of any oriental monarch, now walk the streets with heads hung down or face averted, and in every posture and motion give visible evidence that they are "wretchedly ill." It is really painful to see them. Come, gentlemen, cheer up. It is not worth while to grieve forever especially if grieving is of no avail to mend matters. Better put the best face on your misfortunes. Besides, who knows but you may be happy yet?

OF HIS CERTAIN KNOWLEDGE.

A gentleman who occupied a very high position on the Ring Republican ticket just before the late election while still-hunting in Washington county for votes, told certain Republicans out there that "to his certain knowledge" Mr Campbell would not receive over 400 votes in Multnomah county, and he thought not over three hundred, and that "to his certain knowledge" Campbell would not receive over 50 votes in Clackamas county. Our readers will recollect that remarking upon these statements at the time they were made, or soon afterwards, we said they would prove very wide of the mark and added that the gentleman himself (who by the way thought he was going to be elected) would, himself, run far behind his own ticket when the votes came to be counted. It can now be seen who had calculated the results of the election most accurately. Campbell received over 500 votes in Multnomah, and he received four times as many votes as the aforesaid knowing individual allowed while the individual did run over a hundred votes behind his ticket in his own county and more than a thousand behind it in the District, being beat worse than any man that ever ran for the same office in the District. How is that for an old political manager who claims to be able to "figure elections down to a scratch," and talks so regularly of his "certain knowledge" as to results?

There is a chance for the Judge of Election or the Board of Canvassers of Umatilla county to rise and explain. It is publicly charged that they substituted Democratic for Republican ballots and by this means counted out Williams and Clark and counted in McDow and Brown. True this charge is presented through the columns of a paper that has never been noted for its carefulness about the evidence on which it bases its attacks and its recklessness has not infrequently led it to make accusations that were wholly groundless. Such may be this charge against the officers in question. We do not pretend to say what is the truth for we have seen no evidence either one way or the other. But the accusation is of such gravity that it ought not to be permitted to pass unnoticed. If these officers did what they are accused of doing they should be dealt with in the severest manner the law will allow and if not guilty it is due to them and to the State that that fact be made known. The question is one that can [illegible]

The New York [illegible] Congressional Committee [illegible] expressed the opinion [illegible] [illegible] Congress [illegible] in the House [illegible] [illegible]

If the [illegible] horses—[illegible]

Mr [illegible] Gates we are informed [illegible] solicitation of a large number of taxpayers of the Third Ward to [illegible] as a candidate for the Council from that Ward. He is certainly a capable man.

It is alleged that all the votes cast in [illegible] county except those cast for [illegible] were illegal.

ADDRESS OF THE PEOPLE'S CITY NOMINATING COMMITTEE.

To the People of Portland. One year ago a large number of you joined in requesting twenty seven of your fellow citizens equally representing the three Wards of the city to act as a committee in selecting suitable candidates for the several city offices to be filled at the election then ensuing, without regard to party consideration but [illegible] only to the best interests of the people [illegible] administration of our city government.

The result of that action was a highly important though incomplete victory for the people. The Mayor and the Councilmen then elected by you have [illegible] but not always successfully in furtherance of the objects of the movement which carried them into office.

The reported proceedings of almost every meeting of the Council during the past year bear witness how often and how [illegible] the Mayor [illegible] raids upon the treasury in all the various and often ingenious shapes in which they have been presented.

But the [illegible] when a constitutional majority of [illegible] Councilmen could be obtained to override the veto [illegible]. The latest instance of this kind occurred at the last meeting of the Council [illegible] when an ordinance appropriating [illegible] for a purpose not having the least color of law was passed by the requisite six votes after being properly vetoed. Of those who have always given their support to the Mayor one at least retires from the Council this year and unless the three now to be elected are all men who can be trusted to look solely to the interests of the public without having any axes to grind, it is safe to say that the veto will no longer be any protection to your interests.

The necessity of a united and determined effort therefore presents itself even more forcibly now than ever before. With the enemy baffled and defeated in the recent general struggle it is not the time now to lay down arms when the completion of the grand work you have thus far so successfully prosecuted is just in sight. The trying and most disagreeable position of your Mayor—a position be it remembered in which he was placed much against his wishes—demands that you now elect three men who will be in hearty sympathy with the work of reform and unless such support is given to the Mayor he will be powerless to accomplish what you elected him for.

At the request of numerous citizens the Committee who fulfilled your behests last year have met and after due consultation and deliberation have nominated the following well known citizens for the office of Councilman in their respective Wards:

First Ward—GEORGE H. FLANDERS
Second Ward—JOHN CATLIN
Third Ward—CHARLES HODGE

The above named gentlemen are too well known in this community to need any commendation at our hands and we submit them for your consideration confidently believing that you will triumphantly elect them.

Bark [illegible]—This bark arrived at [illegible] on Wednesday morning in tow of the [illegible] came direct from Hongkong [illegible] Chinese passengers and a large cargo. The following is the memoranda: Left Hongkong on the 20th April; had hard weather in the China Sea [illegible] strong contrary winds which retarded the passage [illegible]. On the 30th passed through the Bashee Islands into the Pacific after which had very light winds from N E to S E with fine weather up to the 11th of May when the vessel encountered a strong gale from the [illegible] accompanied with thick rain, which lasted to the morning of the 14th when the wind veered to the westward [illegible]. From thence [illegible] had moderate winds and fine weather [illegible] the vessel crossed in [illegible] was on the 23d. From that date [illegible] light variable winds [illegible] encountered moderate westerly winds and fine weather. After [illegible] were encountered [illegible] At [illegible] A M [illegible] the vessel was in [illegible] Hancock [illegible]. On the same morning [illegible] to Astoria where she arrived [illegible] from Hongkong. [illegible] discharging cargo at Flanders wharf.

[illegible] Mail—Mr Paquet the well known boat builder is now engaged in constructing a small steamer a short distance above the Cascades. This craft belongs to Mr Z I Moody of the Dalles. That gentleman having been awarded the contract for carrying the mails between Portland and the Dalles the new boat will be used for that purpose. The craft will be [illegible] feet long 12 feet beam [illegible]. A new boiler came up on the last steamer which is to be placed in the new boat as soon as the hull is completed. The engines which have long done service on the old [illegible] will drive the necessary machinery. [illegible] are now being overhauled at the [illegible] Iron Works and will soon be ready for service. A [illegible] propeller has just been cast six feet in diameter with three flukes which will furnish the propelling power. Work is being crowded forward with all possible speed and the new craft will probably be ready to make the trial trip by the middle of next month. When finished the new boat is designed to carry the mails between the Cascades and the Dalles. Mr Moody will probably charter a small boat to carry the mail between this city and the Cascades but we are unadvised as to what precise course he will pursue.

Case Continued.—The case of State vs G[illegible] Stemme arrested on Wednesday charged with attempting to procure money at the First National Bank on the strength of a fraudulent letter [illegible] came up in the Police Court yesterday morning [illegible] Sheriff Park [illegible] had obtained money [illegible] about two weeks ago [illegible] In the absence of an important witness the case was continued until this morning. Trouble seems to thicken rapidly around Stemme [illegible] can scarcely hope to escape the [illegible] walls of the State Penitentiary.

Portland Wakened [illegible]—[illegible] Francisco [illegible] arranging for a Scottish [illegible] Company [illegible] The great desideratum of all provident [illegible] savings bank, has been incorporated under the name of the Hibernia Savings [illegible] Society [illegible] British Columbia's old premises and some of our leading financiers are sending up a gent [illegible] by the John L Stephens to [illegible] matter in working order for immediate business.

Maguire Minstrels.—Mr Greenwall the business manager for Maguire's Minstrels arrived by steamer Wednesday from San Francisco. He came to Portland for the purpose of completing arrangements for the appearance in this city of the celebrated [illegible] Minstrels. Satisfactory arrangements have been effected and the company will take passage on the next steamer for Portland. The company will consist of twenty three persons. Prominent among these will be the following artists: [illegible]

From thence to the meridian of 180° had moderate wind and fine weather, when the vessel crossed in Lat 37° 16 north, which was on the 23d From this date to the 26th light variable winds were experienced from the E N E From May 26th to June 3d encountered moderate westerly winds with fine weather After that strong S. FOR CARRYING MAILS.—Mr. Pacquet, the well known boat builder, is now engaged in constructing a small steamer a short distance above the Cascades This craft belongs to Mr J F Moody, of the Dalles That gentleman having been awarded the contract for carrying the mails between Portland and the Dalles, the new boat will be used for that purpose The craft will be 65 feet long 12 feet beam, and 8 feet hold A new boiler came up on the last steamer which is to be placed in the new boat as soon as the hull is completed. The engines, which have long done service on the old dredger will drive the necessary machinery These engines are now being overhauled, at the Iron Works, and will soon be ready for service A new propeller has just been cast, six feet in diameter, with three flukes which will furnish the propelling power Work is being crowded forward with all possible speed, and the new craft will probably be ready to make the trial trip by the middle of next month When finished, the new boat is designed to carry the mails between the Cascades and the Dalles Mr Moody will probably charter a small boat to carry the mails between this city and the Cascades, but we are uninformed as to what precise course he will pursue.

BOY DROWNED.

During Wednesday afternoon three small boys named respectively McMahan, Pollock, and Hayden procured a small skiff from near the Water Works on the bank of the river in the southern end of the city and began to paddle about in the slough The skiff was a frail leaky concern, but the boys with daring recklessness did not heed the dangerous condition of the old craft. They had not proceeded far from the Water Works before the boat began to leak rapidly So fast did the water run in that the boys became much alarmed for their safety. Fear seemingly paralyzed them and instead of turning the skiff about and coming back to the Works they made no efforts at all McMahan and Pollock, perceiving that the boat would inevitably sink leaped out Hayden however, remained in the skiff for a few moments after his companions had left it, but as it was rapidly filling and would soon sink, he sprang out. In the meantime Pollock and McMahan had both swam ashore Young Hayden was only a few rods from the Water Works but he did not apparently try to save himself, although he is said to have been an expert swimmer He was seen to come to the surface twice and then disappeared from sight His companions were dreadfully frightened and did not tell any one of the fatal occurrence until nearly sundown although the drowning transpired about the middle of the afternoon Late in the evening the boy was missed and the dreadful intelligence was communicated to the parents and family Grappling irons were procured and the bottom of the slough dragged for some time At length efforts were abandoned until yesterday morning when they were renewed About 9 o clock the body was recovered The Coroner was notified and a jury summoned, consisting of the following persons T J Garwood (Foreman), James L Daly J C Rhodes, C Gilday D M Fields and C Gordon Several witnesses were examined, when the jury rendered the following verdict We the undersigned jurors summoned to inquire into the cause of death of the person whose body now lies before us, which was found by D M Fields in the bottom, about forty feet south of the Water Works, situate nearly opposite the [illegible] on the west bank of the Willamette river, in the city of Portland, do find from testimony and facts elicited upon examination that deceased s name is George Hayden, his age about 11 years and came to his death by accidental drowning by the swamping of a small hunting skiff

BRONCHITIS.

This is an irritation or inflammation of the bronchial tubes which carry the air we breathe into the lungs It arises from a cold settled in the throat, from Catarrh extending to these parts from scrofulous affections and from severe use of the voice The irritation from this latter cause commences in the larynx and glottis which are the organs of the voice and extending downwards, produces hoarseness, coughing and spitting mucous matter sometimes mixed with blood It is chiefly dangerous from its tendency to spread into the lungs and terminate in consumption It is in the cure of severe and obstinate cases of this disease that Dr. Pierce s Golden Medical Discovery has achieved unparalleled success and won the loudest praise from all who have used it

A DEBT OF GRATITUDE

Mrs Mary Taft, of Elk Point Dakota Territory called at the World s Dispensary August 19 1870, to acknowledge a debt of gratitude due Dr Pierce having been entirely cured of Catarrh complicated with Throat Disease by the use of Dr Sage s Catarrh Remedy and Dr Pierce s Golden Medical Discovery

A TERRIBLE VENDETTA

[illegible] WITH BULLETS WHILE THE [illegible] HARMED

[Special Corr Chicago Times]

MEMPHIS Tenn May 29 The steamer Phil Allen which came up the river [illegible] last night brought the particulars of another of those Arkansas shot gun fights which a [illegible] ter of course resulted in the death of one of the parties engaged and which for coolness and stubborn bravery on the part of both of the combatants equals if it does not exceed any of the small skirmishes that occurred during the late [illegible] war [illegible]

THE [illegible] UNFORTUNATE

were a Mr Henry Burgett who owns property near Haskel[illegible] Ark and a Mr Jesse Grider between whom a long standing feud had existed growing out of the division of some property and the introduction of Grider into the Burgett family by first marrying a sister of heirs and subsequently—not more than ten [illegible] since—taking unto himself as wife (the first having died) the widow of one of the Burgett brothers There was also a shot gun battle between John Grider a brother of Jesse and Henry Burgett about [illegible] years ago in which Burgett was wounded and carried several buckshot in his [illegible] up to the time of his death the last [illegible] occurring as I am told [illegible] where Burgett was living in [illegible] Grider Another Burgett [illegible] was killed in the same way about six months [illegible] by one [illegible] Smith [illegible] from a [illegible] brake [illegible] still another died from the effects of wound received while handling a derringer The last killed is however and occurred 28 miles below here on yesterday afternoon Burgett it seems had started from here in a skiff early in the morning with his little 12 year old son and had his shot gun two "navies" and a "bowie" and arrived at Haskelrodes just as the Phil Allen was landing to take Grider on board he having hailed her from the bank where he stood with his valise and shot gun On getting out of his skiff Burgett cocked his gun and started up the bank toward Grider who accosted him asking whether his intentions were warlike or for peace Burgett replied that they were for friendship, and added "How are all Jesse" and before Grider could reply raised his gun and said "Here take this, G—d d—n you" and fired The load barely missed Grider who expected the movement and let go one of the loads in his gun, wounding Burgett in the breast, left wrist and bowels Both then raised their guns to fire, but Grider's snapped and Burgett's failed to explode Grider then stepped back a few paces to a tree and Burgett got down behind a log about twenty feet distant and then it was that

THE BALL OPENED IN EARNEST

Burgett filled with buckshot the tree behind which Grider stood, and the latter leisurely stooped down, unlocked his valise, and coolly unwrapped a navy, which he took out and at the same time put a fresh cap on one tube of the unexploded barrel of his gun and taking his revolver in hand took a steady and deliberate aim at his antagonist whose head and shoulders were visible above the log behind which he lay and, as he let go one from his barker Grider followed putting a ball nearly through his breast But nothing undaunted Burgett fired again and again, until he had emptied one revolver and then called to his son in the skiff to bring the other But the son not complying, he started up and tottering and reeling from his wounds started for the skiff, telling Grider to cease firing as he was

OUT OF AMMUNITION

Grider then stepped out, and leveled his shot gun fired and let the entire charge into Burgett's breast and abdomen The wounded man, then nearly dead made his way to the skiff, and, knee deep in water, tugged at it to get it out from shore but gradually grew weak from the loss of blood and looking up, requested Capt Lee, of the Phil Allen to take him on board and bring him to Memphis Several men were sent out then to carry him on board the board, where he died soon after He told the captain and his son that he wanted to be buried cheap, that first his body must be washed clean and then be put in a coffin which must not cost over $10 to $12 and that the d[illegible] n s [illegible] n of [illegible] b [illegible] h had got him at last

On the arrival of the body here

was held, the verdict being in accordance with the facts stated above, and the body was decently interred Grider came up on another boat during the night, and surrendered himself to the authorities but was subsequently released, the evidence before the coroner's jury showing that Burgett went down on purpose to kill him, and in fact fired the first shot

And so ends for the present another of those terrible vendettas which in former years were so common in the south But it will be carried still farther, no doubt, by the family relatives It is said of Burgett that with his brother Ike he some years ago killed four negroes near the scene of the present difficulty and another story is that they killed thirteen in all, and put them in a lake near by

MORBID IMPULSE

ANECDOTES TAKEN FROM THE RECENT LECTURE OF PROF WM A HAMMOND BEFORE THE MEDICAL SOCIETY OF NEW YORK

A few weeks ago a young man consulted me for symptoms indicating cerebral congestion. He had pain in his head dizziness, and was unable to sleep. He informed me that he had been for several months constantly impelled by a force, which was inexplicable to him, to kill a friend who was employed in the same office with him Upon one occasion he had gone so far as to secretly put strychnine in a mug of ale which he had invited the young man to drink but just as the intended victim was raising the vessel to his lips he had, as if by accident, knocked it out of his hand. Every morning he awoke with the impulse so strong upon him that he felt certain he would carry it out before the day closed, but he had always been able to overcome it

This young man reasoned perfectly well in regard to his impulse and very candidly admitted—and I entirely agreed with him—that if he had yielded and committed the murder he ought to have been punished to the full extent of the law

A young man, a member of a highly respected family consulted me for what he called insanity It appeared that a few weeks previously, while walking down Broadway, he had been struck with the appearance of a lady in front of him who wore a very rich black silk dress Suddenly the impulse seized him to ruin the dress by throwing sulphuric acid on it He therefore stopped at an apothecary's shop and purchased a small vial of oil of vitriol, He [illegible] his pace he soon overtook the lady, and, walking by her side, he managed in the crowd to empty his vial over her dress without being perceived He derived so much satisfaction from this act that he resolved to repeat it at once He therefore procured another supply of vitriol, and singling out a lady better dressed than others around her he poured the contents of the vial over her dress and again escaped detection

He then went home and reflecting upon what he had done determined to persevere in the practice but a night's rest put him in a healthier frame of mind and he concluded to abandon the idea, Indeed he was so disturbed at what he had already done that he wrote out an advertisement for the newspaper in which he requested the ladies whose dresses he had spoiled to reply through the same channel giving their residences so that he might recompense them for the losses he had caused them to sustain But on his way to the newspaper offices he again felt the impulse at the sight of a handsome dress to throw vitriol on it, and he again purchased a supply and repeated the act of the day before

He now began to consider more fully than he had yet done the nature and consequences of his conduct and the next morning came to me for advice He stated very frankly his entire conviction that his acts were in the highest degree immoral and degrading but expressed himself as [illegible] utter inability to refrain [illegible] dress [illegible] very much [illegible] does on [illegible] The bull [illegible] while I use vitriol

Upon the [illegible] I could discover no evidence of disease [illegible] except in the one point [illegible] with which he had suffered [illegible] months past I therefore prescribed the bromide [illegible] and insisted on his [illegible] further temptation by taking a sea voyage on a sailing vessel upon which there were no women passengers. He at once expressed his [illegible]

[illegible] and returned in three or four months perfectly free from his morbid impulse

The suggestion that the currency bill now [illegible] in Congress would be materially modified by the Conference Committee [illegible] have [illegible] of the [illegible] is given by telegraph [illegible] the original bill are [illegible] changed by the Conference Committee and with a possibility of its passage by both Houses of Congress there is no assurance that it will not be vetoed by the President Also that there is no likelihood that anything further will be done this session

From our advices [illegible] the District learn that the proposed adjournment of Congress on the 22d of June [illegible] a feeling [illegible] left the entire country If it had been known three months ago that Congress would [illegible] finally in [illegible] legislation on the finance [illegible] business would [illegible] unwonted activity It was the [illegible] of industry and commerce

In one respect at least the country [illegible] much better [illegible] A comparative statement of the value of the imports and exports of leather hides and [illegible] articles for 1873 compiled from the [illegible] report of the Bureau of Statistics shows a falling off in the value of imports of those articles for the past year of $[illegible] from those of 1872, and an increase in the exports for the same period of $[illegible] The excess in value of imports over exports amounts to $[illegible] against $[illegible] in 1872 showing a difference in favor of the past year of the large [illegible]

The imports exclusive of specie at the port of New York for the week ending May 9th amounted to $[illegible] against $[illegible] for the corresponding week last year. The total imports since the first of January foot up $170,[illegible] against $189,[illegible] for the corresponding period in 1873 The exports of gold and silver for the week were $[illegible] making with $[illegible] previously reported $[illegible] since the first of January.

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—The market at present is quite inactive and but few transactions are taking place. [illegible] declined to a nominal amount and we shall probably witness no material revival of trade in this cereal until the new crop which will [illegible] later this year than last Harvesting has already begun in California and before [illegible] another month the trade in San Francisco will be fairly open and more indications of future prices will be obtainable That market stands at present at $1 80@1 [illegible] cental though contracts are reported there for July deliveries at $1 [illegible] Our market is quotable at $1 [illegible] The crop is reported heading out finely in some sections and the only drawback (if which we hear is the prostration of a few fields by the recent heavy rains but the damage by this cause will be light The bark Achievement now en route from San Francisco will [illegible] the last foreign bound vessel to load at this port this season

FLOUR—Shipments have declined owing to the small stocks on hand here and the [illegible] and reduced rates in San Francisco [illegible] is quoted at $[illegible] for best brands and [illegible] only [illegible] cents lower hence exportations [illegible] pay and holders here believe they will be able to work off most of their stocks before the new crop comes in. Hence we assert that our market is not strong and that holders would [illegible] to sell at present rates as no probabilities exist of any advance before harvest.

OATS—The receipts have fallen off considerably and the market is more active in its demands both for the local trade and for export. Buyers here are freely offering [illegible] cents per bushel for choice lots and [illegible] cents has frequently been paid during the week. The new crop is estimated to be rather [illegible] low than above last year in acreage but the average yield will be greater so that the surplus this year will be fully as large as last.

BARLEY—The crop last year yielded well but the amount sowed was comparatively small and is believed to be at least one fifth more this year Imports have been necessary to supply the trade here, but this will hardly occur again We quote at $1 [illegible] per cental for feed and $1 40@1 [illegible] for brewing.

FEED—The demand is quite limited, which the stocks here though small supplies at the ordinary rates—which are $17@18 per ton for bran, $1[illegible] for shorts and $[illegible] for chops middlings etc

HAY—A limited local demand exists and best lots of timothy sell readily at $12a14 per ton baled and $11 @12 loose Wild hay is a drug and unsaleable

POTATOES—Old crop is about exhausted and [illegible] cents per bushel for good varieties is freely paid New from California selling at [illegible] ℔

BACON—Receipts of the week have been less than last but prices seem about as dull as ever common country cured being weak at [illegible] for shoulders 10@11c for sides and 12½ 14c for hams. Fancy cut or established brands command an advance

LARD—The supply of common sample while we still hear inquiry for choice and fresh both in kegs and tins Quotations range from 12½ [illegible] ℔

BUTTER—The market appears rather brisker for good lots and some advance in prices for fresh roll is noticed We quote common at 1[illegible]@15c [illegible] good [illegible] 17c and choice 20@25c

CHEESE—Importations continue to supply the market largely and Oregon makers are slow in forwarding We quote common Oregon at 1[illegible] best at 17@18c ℔

EGGS—The demand early in the week was brisk and shippers paid 20c ℔ doz. but to day [illegible] larger supply and the product rather weakening in price [illegible] quotations would be included in 18@20c ℔ doz

CHICKENS—The receipts are better and none but best lots of full grown are worth $[illegible] while common or mixed lots or springs are [illegible] at $[illegible]

FRESH MEATS—Arrivals of beeves from east of the mountains are furnishing the markets with fair lot and butchers are rather more independent while prices remain at 6@7c ℔ for choice and [illegible] for common Mutton sheep are scarce at $[illegible] 3 50 ℔ head Dressed hogs are quotable at 7@8c

HIDES—Demand steady for choice lots at 14@16c ℔ for dry, 6@7c for green, and 7@8c for green salted

WOOL—We have reports from up the valley of buyers paying as high as 30c ℔ ℔ for extra fine lots which is certainly a good figure and is as much as could be done here A great preference is manifest this season for superior qualities well washed and neatly packed. The very latest advices from the East are said to be hardly so favorable to holders as on prior dates and those who predicted [illegible] prices would be found too high are confirmed in their belief We are certain however that if Oregon wool growers will use care in cleaning sorting and packing their fleeces they will receive great encouragement from the market this year The range of prices here now is 2[illegible]@30c for best and [illegible] 27c for fair
